

Coming This Spring

A new book spotlighting the natural beauty, the history and the people of the cities, towns and villages along the course of the MISSOURI RIVER

During the summer of 2016, retired professor and photography buff Larry Campbell fulfilled his dream of exploring the Missouri River by means of a roadtrip beginning at the River's official source at Three Forks, Montana, through seven states and finishing at its confluence with the Mississippi near St. Louis. Join Campbell as he recounts his trip by means of breathtaking color photos and narrative text. Visit the historical sites along the River—many marking the exploration of Lewis and Clark more than two centuries ago.

Experience the breathtaking scenery that adorns the 2,341-mile path of the River. Meet the colorful personalities the author encountered and befriended during what he called “the trip of a lifetime on what is arguably the most unique river in the world!”

Featuring the following Missouri River communities:

Montana: Three Forks, Helena, Great Falls, Ft. Benton, Ft. Peck, Wolf Point, Willow Creek, Virgelle. North Dakota: Williston, Bismarck. South Dakota: Mobridge, Ft. Pierre, Marty, Pierre, Chamberlain, Wagner, Pickstown, Fairfax. Iowa: Sioux City, Council Bluffs. Nebraska: Omaha. Kansas: Atchison. Missouri: St. Joseph, Riverside/Kansas City, Boonville, Lexington, Jefferson City, Hermann, Washington.

Author Larry Campbell will revisit his Missouri River travels during the summer of 2017 as he promotes Rollin' Down the River—Discovering People and Places Along the Mighty Missouri. Families will want copies of this book that features people and places from your area.
